after they leave us and personal characteristics such as ethnic group, special educational needs and relevant medical information. If your child is enrolling for post 14 qualifications, we will be provided with your child's unique learner number (ULN) by the Learning Records Service and may also obtain from them details of any learning or qualifications undertaken.

We will also use photographs of students/pupils in accordance with the permissions indicated by you on the student/pupil registration form.

Online lessons delivered via our web-based conferencing platforms may be recorded for safeguarding purposes and to support the remote education of students not in school.

- Students/pupils will be informed if a meeting is being recorded
- Recordings will be kept for one year
- Detailed instructions regarding remote lessons will be sent to all staff and students, and refreshed at least annually

If staff want to record online lessons for use beyond one year, or to share with a different class, students will be asked for consent before the lesson is recorded.

The use of your information for these purposes is lawful for the following reasons:

- CLT is under a legal obligation to collect the information or the information is necessary for us to meet legal requirements imposed upon us, such as our duty to safeguard students/pupils
- It is necessary for us to hold and use your information for the purposes of our functions in providing schooling and so we can look after our students/pupils. This is a function which is in the public interest because everybody needs to have an education. This means we have real and proper reasons to use your information
- We will not usually need your consent to use your information. If, however, at any time it appears to us that we would like to use your personal data in a way which means that we would need your consent then we will explain to you what we want to do and ask you for consent. This is most likely to be where we are involved in activities which are not really part of our job as a Trust but we are involved because we think it would benefit our students/pupils. If you give your consent, you may change your mind at any time.

When we collect personal information on our forms, we will make it clear whether there is a legal requirement for you to provide it and whether there is a legal requirement on the Trust to collect it. If there is no legal requirement then we will explain why we need it and what the consequences are if it is not provided.

3. How long we keep your information

We only keep information for as long as we need to or for as long as the law requires us. Most of the information we have will be in the student's/pupil's file. We usually keep these until their 25th birthday (or until their 35th birthday in the case where a student/pupil has an Education, Health and Care Plan) unless they move to another school in which case, we send their file to their new school. We have a policy which explains how long we keep information. It is called a Records Retention Policy and it can be found at <http://www.corvuslearningtrust.co.uk/policies-and-procedures/trust-policies/>

Once pupils are aged 13 or over, we are required by law to pass on certain information to the provider of youth support services in your area. This is the LA support service for young people aged 13 to 19 in England. This includes sharing certain personal data relating to children aged 16 and over with post-16 education and training providers in order to secure appropriate services for them.

The pupil (if aged 16 or over) or parent can however ask that no information beyond name and address and date of birth be passed on to the youth services provider. Please inform the school if you or your parents wish to opt out of this arrangement.

The National Pupil Database (NPD) is owned and managed by the DfE and contains information about students/pupils in schools in England. It provides invaluable evidence on educational performance to inform independent research, as well as studies commissioned by the DfE. It is held in electronic format for statistical purposes. This information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, Local Authorities and awarding bodies.

We are required by law, to provide information about our students/pupils to the DfE as part of statutory data collections such as the school census and early years' census. Some of this information is then stored in the NPD. The law that allows this is the Education (Information About Individual Pupils) (England) Regulations 2013.

To find out more about the student/pupil information we share with the DfE, for the purpose of data collections, go to

<https://www.gov.uk/education/data-collection-and-censuses-for-schools>

- Conducting research or analysis
- Producing statistics
- Providing information, advice or guidance.

The DfE has robust processes in place to ensure the confidentiality of our data is maintained and there are stringent controls in place regarding access and use of the data. Decisions on whether DfE releases data to third parties are subject to a strict approval process and based on a detailed assessment of:

- Who is requesting the data
- The purpose for which it is required
- The level and sensitivity of data requested
- The arrangements in place to store and handle the data.

To be granted access to student/pupil information, organisations must comply with strict terms and conditions covering the confidentiality and handling of the data, security arrangements and retention and use of the data.
