1. Aims

The aims of relationships and sex education (RSE) at Edgbarrow are to:

- Provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place
- Prepare pupils for puberty, and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of health and hygiene
- Help pupils develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy
- Create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships
- Teach pupils the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies

2. Statutory requirements

As a secondary academy school we must provide RSE to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social work act 2017.

In teaching RSE, we are required by our funding agreements to have regard to guidance issued by the secretary of state as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

At Edgbarrow we teach RSE as set out in this policy.

3. Policy development

This policy has been developed in consultation with staff, pupils and parents. The consultation and policy development process involved the following steps:

1. Review – a member of staff pulled together all relevant information including relevant national and local guidance
2. Staff consultation –school staff were given the opportunity to look at the policy and make recommendations
3. Parent/stakeholder consultation – The policy has been shared with parents /carers via the website and PSHE Newsletter.
4. Pupil consultation – we investigated what exactly pupils want from their RSE
5. Ratification – once amendments were made, the policy was shared with governors and ratified

4. Definition

RSE is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils, and involves learning about relationships, sexual health, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity.

RSE involves a combination of sharing information, and exploring issues and values.

RSE is not about the promotion of sexual activity.

5. Curriculum

Our curriculum is set out as per Appendix 2 but we may need to adapt it as and when necessary.

We have developed the curriculum in consultation with parents, pupils and staff, taking into account the age, needs and feelings of pupils.

6. Delivery of RSE

RSE is taught within the personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education curriculum. Biological aspects of RSE are taught within the science curriculum. Other aspects are included in religious education (RE), English, Drama, Art, History and Health and Social Care.

Pupils also receive stand-alone sex education sessions delivered by a trained health professional.

RSE focuses on giving young people the information they need to help them develop healthy, nurturing relationships of all kinds including:

- Families
- Respectful relationships, including friendships
- Online and media
- Being safe
- Intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health

For more information about our RSE curriculum, see Appendix 2

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances (families can include single parent families, LGBT parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures) along with reflecting sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after children or young carers). RSE will be taught in line with Edgbarrow School's safeguarding policy.

Teaching of PSHE will be sensitive and age appropriate in approach and content. content will be fully integrated into the programme of study for this area of the curriculum rather than delivered as a standalone unit or lesson. All pupils will be taught LGBT content at a timely point as part of this area of the curriculum.

In teaching Relationships Education and RSE, we will ensure that the needs of all pupils are appropriately met, and that all pupils understand the importance of equality and respect. We will comply with the relevant provisions of the Equality Act 2010, (please see The Equality Act 2010 and schools: Departmental advice), under which sexual orientation and gender reassignment are amongst the protected characteristics.

7. Roles and responsibilities

7.1 The governing body

The governing body will approve the RSE policy, and hold the headteacher to account for its implementation.

7.2 The headteacher

The headteacher is responsible for ensuring that RSE is taught consistently across the school, and for managing requests to withdraw pupils from [non-statutory/non-science] components of RSE (see section 8).

7.3 Staff

Staff are responsible for:

- Delivering RSE in a sensitive way
- Modelling positive attitudes to RSE
- Monitoring progress
- Responding to the needs of individual pupils including adapting information for SEND pupils
- Responding appropriately to pupils whose parents wish them to be withdrawn from the [non-statutory/non-science] components of RSE

Staff do not have the right to opt out of teaching RSE. Staff who have concerns about teaching RSE are encouraged to discuss this with the headteacher.

Tutors and pastoral staff will deliver the RSE curriculum with the support of Bracknell Forest.

7.4 Pupils

Pupils are expected to engage fully in RSE and, when discussing issues related to RSE, treat others with respect and sensitivity.

8. Parents' right to withdraw

Parents have the right to withdraw their children from the [non-statutory/non-science] components of sex education within RSE up to and until 3 terms before the child turns 16. After this point, if the child wishes to receive sex education rather than being withdrawn, the school will arrange this.

Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix 3 of this policy and addressed to the headteacher.

A copy of withdrawal requests will be placed in the pupil's educational record. The headteacher will discuss the request with parents and take appropriate action.

Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.

9. Training

The school will also invite visitors from outside the school, such as school nurses or sexual health professionals, to provide support and training to staff teaching RSE. Staff will also have the opportunity to undertake online training to support them in teaching RSE.

10. Monitoring arrangements

The delivery of RSE is monitored by [ the Assistant headteacher and the Head of PSHE through: planning scrutinies, learning walks, subject dives.

Edgbarrow School: Governors' Policy

Pastoral Committee: P3 – Relationships Sex and Health Education

Pupils' development in RSE is monitored by tutors as part of our internal assessment systems.

The policy will be reviewed by the Pastoral governors.

DATE

Dear Parent/Carer

As your child is now coming to the end of Year 9 at Edgbarrow, a new facility is open to them. This is the Help@Edgbarrow Drop in Centre. This has been running successfully since November 2004.

The Centre is a pro-active response to the different needs of teenagers today. The facility is for pupils in the upper years of the school and runs every Friday in Hill Block during the lunch break.

It is an inter-agency approach to addressing aspects of young peoples' physical, emotional, mental and sexual health needs. A team of local professionals, including a nurse, youth worker and family planning nurse will staff the centre.

Desired Outcomes:

- Provision of a service relevant to the needs of young people;
- Provision of accurate information on a range of health issues in an accessible, supportive and confidential environment;
- Increased awareness by young people of other relevant local services and how to access them;
- Sustained collaboration between partnership agencies (Education, Youth Service, General Practice, Sexual Health)

Benefits it would deliver:

- Young people will be able to easily access information, advice and support on a range of health issues including: drugs, alcohol, bullying, skin care, weight, stress management;
- Where appropriate young people will be able to access the provision of contraceptives, pregnancy testing and sexual health information;
- A safe and confidential environment in which young people feel comfortable and able to discuss their needs

Confidentiality

Young people who visit the "Drop In" will be dealt with in complete confidentiality, as in any doctors' surgery. However, the professions will encourage the young people to talk to their parents/carers in order to open lines of communication. Any pupils who appear to be "in danger" or "at risk" will be referred to the appropriate agency as with any child protection/safeguarding concern.

Yours faithfully

Mr S Matthews
Headteacher
